David Torres's Diorama

As we were leaving the meeting, somebody said that we had a great meeting today. I agree. There were at least thirty-five members and family in attendance with a great deal of interaction among the members. We had several folks pay their dues and we had one visitor, Jesse Franco Jr. He said that he often works on Sundays but will attend again when and if he is able. Welcome. Fred Gonzales retired recently and was at the meeting. He said he would be attending many more of our meetings from now on, Congratulations. Efrain Zamora returned after an absence of some time. Welcome back.

The next Basset Place show is August 10, a Saturday event. If you would like to display, check with Michael Garcia or Hector Gonzalez to sign up and get the info about the event.

There several really great models photographed at the meeting. It was really difficult to decide which order to present them on the pages.

Clif Bailey's 1/48th scale Tamiya A1-H "Skyraider"

John Estes went over the photo information handout at the meeting. He stressed that the more information you provide, the better your write-up could be.

Again, this month, there were two models with identical markings presented to be the photographed. What are the odds on that?

Clifford Bossie attended the recent IPMS National Convention in Madison Wisconsin. He took several hundred pictures at the event. You might check on Facebook to look at them.

Kyle Smith's Bandi 1/144th scale Guncannon RX-77D

The model was not painted but sanded and polished with rubbing compound. Kyle used Mr. Color water-based markers for detailing and weathering. The Blue Optics on the tips of the cannons are jewelry stickers borrowed from his daughter's junk drawer.

After market water slide decals were used for the markings and sealed with Mr. Color Clear. 13 hours in the making. The model cost $7.99 with other materials estimated at $33.00.

Editor's note. Some very interesting methods used in the completion of this model. Appreciated the information.

Tony Barnard's 1/25th scale 1970 Camaro

The following items were 3-D printed: Tires and rims, carburetor and water pump, Shifter cable, the seat belts, the fuel lines and "T" fuel connector, the distributor and the racing headers.

The M-46 was from Takon. The T-34 is a Dragon kit, and the Jeep was built from the Tamiya kit. All the figures are DEF models. David hoped to achieve a typical scene from late winter, Korea, circa 1951.
